There is an aim to build on this initial programme by developing a longer project based on these findings, which can be further embedded into the community and planning process.